LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to Jan. 12th.

From the Salt Lake Union Vedette.

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—The Maine Home yesterday passed the Constitutional Amendment by 125 to 20.

New York, Jan. 12.—The outgoing steamer to-day takes $73,000 in specie.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 11.—Gov. Swann was agreed upon as a candidate for the United States Senate in the convention of members of the Legislature.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—The Dispatch says a merchant of this city, Francis Faxon, two years ago loaned money to a New York firm named Nott, a relative, and has now gained his confidence; the loans finally amounting to $175,000. He received the diamonds in safety in the Bank of New York; recently Nott sent to Faxon for the key to the vault so that he might change the place of deposits. Faxon sent the key. Nott and the diamonds have not been heard from since. Faxon failed in consequence.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The Post's Washington special says that the New Orleans riot committee will not report for several weeks. It is reported that they have discovered evidence that the massacre was premeditated, and that the guilty parties have not been punished. The members of the commission describe the persecution of Union men in Louisiana as perfectly relentless.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—In the Senate, Sherman presented a petition from loyal citizens of Arkansas, asking for the overthrow of the State government and the reorganization by Congress; also, that Congress will declare the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment by twenty-three States to be sufficient.

Several remonstrances were presented against the removal of the Freedmen's Bureau.

Parkhurst improvement in woolen manufacturing.

Wade presented a favorable report on a bill to provide Idaho with a Surveyor and land office.

TUESDAY, Jan. 11.—The Constitutional Amendment has been unanimously ratified by the Legislature, and a resolution adopted requesting the action of Congress in passing the District Suffrage Bill over the veto.

NEW YORK, Jan 11.—A Washington special to-day says: Colonel Forney makes the following threats in a leading editorial in the existing conflict in any attempt to impeach, it will end in war.

The President has in his own pay three hundred millions in foreign and volus.

Additional Senate: Among the provisions of the bill to regulate office is the one declaring that any person who shall accept any appointment to office shall be deemed guilty of a high misdemeanor and fined $10,000, or imprisoned five years, or both. Every removal or appointment made bold or exercised contrary to this Act is also made a high misdemeanor, and the same punishment awarded. The Secretary of the Senate shall deliver to the Secretary of the Treasury at the close of each session, a full list of all persons nominated by the President and rejected by the Senate.

Mr. Howard contended that there should be some minimum punishment by the statement of Mr. Sherman, that the penalty was 0—years, 5 days, 8.

Mr. Wade brought in a bill for organizing the Courts of Montana Territory,—referred to the Committee on Territories.

Mr. Grimes introduced a resolution inquiring into the expediency of temporarily closing the Navy Yard at Norfolk, Virginia.

The consideration of the bill relating to the tenure of office was resumed.

HOUSE.—Mr. Hubbard asked leave to introduce a resolution appointing a select committee to inquire into the defalcations of the rebel gum. Objected to.

Mr. Hubbard offered a resolution to inquire into the expediency of having the mail service performed by steamers between San Francisco, Astoria and Portland, Oregon.

CHICAGO, January 11.—The House will convene at noon on the 4th of March.

The House passed the bill before the holidays, and the Senate took it up during the morning hour yesterday, made a slight amendment, and passed it. It was sent to the House in the course of half an hour, and that body at once agreed to the Senate amendments. The bill will be laid before the President to-morrow. Many expect its veto.

Mr. Wade called up in the Senate a bill amending the organic acts of the Territories, and offered a substitute.

Mr. Howard suggested some changes, and the substitute was then adopted without discussion—that is, in one section, which declares that henceforth that in any Territory now organized or hereafter to be organized, there shall be no denial of elective franchise on account of race or color, and the penalties consequent thereon. The bill was then passed.

Mr. Trumbull then moved to consider the bill and Doolittle did not vote at all.

As soon as it could be enrolled it was sent to the House, where it lay on the table half an hour; it was then taken up, and under the operation of the previous question was passed without debate by 104 to 58. The bill was at once engrossed, and in about two hours from the time of its introduction in the Senate, it had passed both Houses, received the signatures of the Speaker and Vice President, and was ready for the White House. It is not supposed that the President will veto it.

DISTRIBUTION OF THE AMENDMENT.

Gen. Boyton, in a recent letter to the Cincinnati Gazette, gives the following figures as an approximation of the number affected by the third section of the Constitutional Amendment:

Rebel Executive, and Cabinet	8
Rebel Congress	138
Governors and Staffs	140
Rebel Legislatures	1,050
State, Judiciary, District and Circuit Courts	234
Probate Judges	693
U. S. Judiciary	22
Marshals	22
Postmasters	8,035
Assessors and Collectors	100
Lighthouse establishment	75
Land Officers	54
Left National Congress	34
Left Army	310
Left Navy	693
Officers, except as among Judges, Clerks in Post-office, Custom house, Number of the House	5,000
Total of above classes	29,745

With those who left the navy these figures might be placed at 30,000. In addition to these, there are those installed were vacated and refilled during the rebellion, though retained in the service, have proved willed in the south to the same extent as with us. Add to cover this and kindred classes which do not appear, and which the amendments might be construed to reach, such for instance as those who held Government offices years before the war, the total might be placed at 50,000.

A QUESTION SETTLED.—It has long been a disputed question whether it is further from Boise City to China, changing in four days," or to Europe in the regular course of mail. The following throws some light on the point:

BOISE CITY, Jan. 16, 1867.

HON. S. STATHAM:—I notice in your last issue a statement that there had been no communications received in the transportation of letters by way of mail and steamer to and to strengthen the point made, I would add that myself, I am in the regular receipt of European papers, and for the last two months my European dates are from a week to ten days later than those from San Francisco via China. Communications necessary. Yours,

RESPONSIBLE.

NOT DEAD QUITE.—A New York paper recently expressed the opinion that the Yankee stock in this country were gradually dying out, and Professor Huff's Journal of Health stoutly argues from certain statistical premises that such a thing is an impossibility. "The fact is," says the Professor, "that Yankee men, not Yankee principles, nor Yankee thrift, will ever die out while this planet is inhabited and if it is ever depopulated by a conflagration, the last survivors of a slumbering world will be Jonathon, at the death, sturdy and alone, resolutely trying to put out the fire." Hall argues that the Yankees raise eighty per cent of their children, whereas the foreign element lose eighty per cent. of theirs.

City Election.

There is within a day or two past being considerable interest stirred up on the subject of our city election, which is the cause of next Monday. Heretofore the citizens have been about equally divided for and against the adoption of the charter, the anti-charterists having the advantage. The first charter passed at the second session of the legislature was voted down. The one passed last winter was not submitted to a vote of the citizens,but was defeated by the anti-charter party by electing for council men who would not qualify, and so it fell through for want of [illegible] to qualify to serve. Consequently a few days ago passed a bill to revive the charter of last year, by holding an election next Monday.

There appears this year not to be any antischarter party, as both tickets are headed "for the charter." An enthusiastic meeting of business men was held last evening at the Treasurer's office and a select of substantial citizens put in nomination. We understand that the meeting distinctly declared itself in favor of re-forming the charter, so that question does not enter the contest. It is only a choice of men. Concerning the propriety of reforming the charter there is therefore nothing to say; as we suppose that will take place, but whether it shall be as strong, large and convenient, or a source of useless taxation and annoyance to our citizens, depends entirely upon the choice of officers, and most of all upon the men selected for common council. That body can by a unwise expenditure of money, or by loitering up ordinances to favor friends and hangers on make a municipal government a burdensome tax upon the people, and a damage to its prosperity. On the other hand it can by rigid economy and the enactment of good ordinances that are necessary for public convenience make the [illegible] the most of subjects now are not mentioned in any other way. All the men in nomination upon both tickets are well known to every person who has a right to vote. It is therefore quite unnecessary for us to comment upon their respective merits. We should like to see men elected, whose interests in the city will be a positive assurance that the city government will be conducted in a manner to subserve the public good, and not to pamper favorites in idleness or to money personal enemies at the public expense.

In the Weekly Statesman this morning is published the dissenting opinion of Judge Kelly in the Supreme Court in the case of Ivo People vs. John Williams. The case is one of considerable interest inasmuch as the whole question of an interregnum in the laws of this Territory is ably and thoroughly discussed. Few cases of the kind have ever occurred, and it is to be hoped that another may not arise.

A Wise Provision.—Wm. R. Sallerin the register clerk of the Twelfth District Court, who died last Sunday, had his life insured for $10,000 for the benefit of his aged mother, in the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co. He made application in September, and received policy only a week or two before taken sick.

Treat Pipe.—The man who is keeping that silver mounted meerschaum pipe "till he leaves town," will confer a favor upon Fred Bell by leaving it this office when he gets through with it. No questions.

Our correspondent from Portland has a very readable letter in the Statesman today. On his way to America he promises to give us frequent notes by the way, and observations upon what he sees.

Mr. Gubbes desires us to say that his name was used at the meeting without his consent, and that he will not qualify or serve as Marshal if elected.

"Don Lon" is an acceptable correspondent. Shall be glad to hear from him again.

Dead.—The Oregon "Statesman," the oldest newspaper of Oregon "departed this life" on the last day of the year 1866.

It died of "Johnson on the brain," a disease which has killed more newspapers in the same length of time in the United States than any other malady that ever afflicted the press. The publication of the Statesman was commenced in March 1851, nearly sixteen years ago. Whilst under the editorial control of Mr. Reed, it was the most influential paper in Oregon, in fact it might almost be said that it controlled the politics of that State. It however did not receive its death blow till within the last two years it has undertaken to betray the Union party of that State into the hands of the party that supported the rebellion. The death of the deceased was not a long and painful one. It was published at Salem, the capital of the State, a city of some three thousand inhabitants, surrounded by a wealthy populated and wealthy country. Its circulation was formerly the largest of any paper in Oregon, but now even the Union party has just barely carried the State the democracy being almost its equal in numbers and the Statesman bears as the Oregonian and the Unionist flourish and grow strong while the organs of "my party" grow small and sickly, as the above obituary of the people of Oregon. The people often execute other judgments than the decree of condemnation of deceased Oregon Statesman is an instance.

If will be remembered that an agent of the San Francisco Leader visited this Territory last fall and secured a considerable number of subscribers. We have heard much inquiry as to what has become of the papers, and as far as we can learn they have been received here. We find by our California exchanges that the Leader is dead and that it has failed to deliver newspapers. Those who subscribed may therefore charge their four dollars as a total loss and not waste another cent for the year 1866. There will in a few weeks be other agents of institutions of like character presumabling not honoring the old adage, to whom people can "shell out" as they feel like it. In the mean time, the Weekly Statesman is published every other Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, at the same price as the Leader was to appear in advance. Also a large Weekly edition for circulation in the country and to send East; price, eight dollars a year in advance.

Weakness.—The indications are that the committee which was going to investigate Secretary Hewlett have indefinitely postponed the job. It will look smart for a lot of grown up men to actin that way! Sitting in solemn conclave, they dispatch their "sergeant-at-arms" after Mr. Hewlett. Mr. Hewlett didn't come. Assume authority that they did not have, and send a mock warrant for him. Then they refused to obey, back right down. Isn't it dignified? After all their "investigations" they have not come home to the office of the Secretary to learn anything.—That's not the object.—An investigation! is the idea, and a show of dignity and authority, and after all an elaborate report, and—six dollars a day!

This Winter.—It is difficult to realize that it is now mid-winter in Boise valley. The appearances of earth and skies become more of spring. Yesterday morning the air was so bracing and fruitful as ever was born of a May morning. The frost is all out of the ground, the mud nearly dried up, and the grass beginning to look green on the low hills. Occasionally a north wind blows cold, otherwise it is pleasant.Such is this winter of 1866-7 in Boise City.

Messrs. Frankenthal & Haas, Forwarding and Commission Merchants at Umatilla, set forth their business in the Statesman again this morning. They are energetic and reliable business men, and understand how to get customers.

The Times says that dealers of Idaho city have reduced the price of goods twelve and a half per cent since the reduction of dust to its true value.

Mr. L. B. Lobdat wishes us to state that he does not wish his name to be used as a candidate for councilman; that he will not qualify or serve if elected.

Ir looks kind of natural like to visit the flouring and saw mills of the Messrs. Moore Brothers. The farmers come and go with wagons loaded with grain and flour, and the mill is getting piled full with "grists" daily numbered with date of arrival, that they may take their turn. Yesterday they were grinding corn, making what appeared to be a nice article of meal. Also, wheat, a grain entirely already on hand to keep running several weeks. The built is not quite finished yet, but will be in a few days. They will try their hand at making flour from Boise Valley wheat, we doubt not with entire success. The mill is a new one, and expensively fitted, as well as machinery; and though they have begun their mill on a small scale, they have so to speak,grown so as to meet the entire wants of the valley, and, if farmers will raise sufficient grain, put a full stop to importing flour into this part of the Territory. This we notice another item added to the wealth and prosperity of Boise Valley.

Personal.—We were pleased to meet our old friend Gilmore Hays, late recorder of Owyhee county, who came over from Ruby City by the snow on foot, on business at the Capitol. The Judge is looking hale and hearty, and we trust he may have a pleasant time while sojourning among us.

The Boise Infirmary is now under the exclusive management of Dr. Wagner, who has purchased the interest of Dr. Smith in the building.

A Sell.—It is told of the late Miss Mitford that she once bought a turkey on her way to the country, and sent it in to the cottage before her arrival; but the delight of the guests knew no bounds when they found that the noble creature still carrying on her head dress the shop from which it was purchased.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, } ss.
DISTRICT OF IDAHO, }
In the United States District Court, United States of America.
The United States vs. Twenty-seven Packages of Distilled Spirits.

WHEREAS, on the 26th day of December,1866, an information was duly filed in said District Court, charging that twenty-seven packages of distilled spirits, as well as United States of J. Cary Garr, United States Collector of Internal Revenue for the Territory District of Idaho Territory, giving the place of said court in accordance with the provisions of the Act approved 2d December, 1846, of Boise City, in the District of Idaho, in the Third Judicial District, and the territory, the said J. Cary Garr aforesaid did seize twenty-seven casks and packages of distilled spirits, and then held the same in his custody and liable to forfeiture for the causes therein mentioned and which are to subsequent as follows, viz:

1st. For that the distilled spirits aforesaid be subject to United States revenue tax as upon the manufacture thereof before being removed from the place where the same was made, or from any other than a bonded warehouse, and, on the 1st day of November, 1866, removed from the place of manufacture in the state of Ohio, to Boise City, in Boise City aforesaid, the said state not having been duly entered for the purpose, and not having been removed, gauged and marked by any inspector or other authorized person, and the tax thereon not having been paid or secured as required.

2d. For that on the 1st day of September, 1866, the said spirits having been manufactured and put up in casks and packages, the said 1st day of November, 1866, said distilled spirits so seized as aforesaid were owned, stored, held and kept for sale in the collection district aforesaid, yet such distilled spirits were not then and there duly entered and retained within the state for the 1st day of September, 1866, or at any other time, by the local persons appointed in that collection district to gauge and prove the same, and the tax thereon was not then and there paid or secured, however, from said 1st day of September.

3d. For that on the 1st day of November, 1866, said distilled spirits were not then and there certified and raised, and the proof and quantity thereof ascertained, and the same not certified and raised the same not having paid the tax thereon as required by law.

And whereas, by order of the judge of said court an oral examination endorsed a warrant of arrest against said distilled spirits, and commanded any of and under the seal of said court, to the said Collector of Internal Revenue, and his deputies to seize and keep said distilled spirits and show cause on the return day of such process why the same should not be forfeited, as should not be decreed.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given to all persons concerned in interest, claiming or pretending to claim the said distilled spirits, or any of them, to the said twenty-seven packages of distilled spirits or any part thereof, or knowing or having anything to say why the same should not be condemned by the decree of said court as forfeited, that they be and appear before the said court, to be at and in the said court, to be held in and for said United District of Idaho, at Boise City, on the 1st of April, 1867, if that said be a day of jurisdiction, otherwise the next day of jurisdiction thereafter, then and there to show cause, if any they can or have why the said distilled spirits should not be condemned as forfeited.

Dated December 31st, 1866.

OWYHEE CORRESPONDENCE.

SILVER CITY, January 13th, 1867.

MR. EDITOR.—You denizens of the valley know little of the pleasures of being storm-bound in a snow squall. From good till noon rain snow is the rule, and blow, blow, blow, is the greeting the mists at all the house corners and crossings, and eyes, ears and nostrils are filled with the driving, cutting, piercing, blinding, overcoming snow. War Eagle, the name of all our wealth, the alpha and omega of all our hopes, has donned clean linen and though concealed from view at Shaniko squalls, it nevertheless rears its lofty head high above its young cagless, as if conscious that no other had paid more liberally; for a 'man new suit' than the old bird himself.

HOW SILVER CITIZENS CELEBRATE.

Though late to note it, it nevertheless belongs to history. New Year's eve was ushered by a select party of our leading politicians (aw-idiopoals) as a fitting occasion to ventilate their past years' shortcomings, and to open new hooks in the page of good intentions" for the incoming year. The Chaldeans-ealoos was the piece of meeting; viz., champagne and tangle-leg was the "intent ordnal" that made a dozen hearts "beat as one;" and not until the cock had crowed thrice, did we wend our home till morning, till daylight doth appear," was the opening and closing hymn) till "a heavy stillness" fellin the place under to their several habitations. Gross receipts for the evening's entertainment, three dollars and seventy five cents.

"WITHIN DOWN AS AS."

The speaker of the unterrified over the little bomb-shell thrown into their camp by Governor Ballard, has aroused the indignation of the intelligent masses of this section, and caused the blush of shame to mantle their cheeks, to think that they have been putting in power any party legislators (!) who could so far forget the dignity of their high calling as to descend to language that would disgrace a guerrilla camp in the palmy days of the Confederacy, or the slang of Five-pointers in the literary district of New York. Such gems as "Gov. Jesus Christ," "God damn Yankiii!" "Go in, Foos," and kindred expressions, could be seen in no other grave body of law makers (?) outside of Idaho Territory, and we hope for the credit of our embryo State that no other such disgrace will not soon be inflicted upon her. How truthful are the words of Anahus when applied to this case "Great men are not always wise, neither do the aged understand judgment." How well can the participators in that debate exclaim in the language of our heading, "Write me down as one."

"How long, O Lord, how long?"

SHOW NAME.—TWO SORRIER'S ASSES.

Between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock this morning, a heavy bank of snow that crowned the hill on the other side of Jordan Gulch, broke loose, sweeping in its course trees, logs, boulders, wood, etc., to the ravine below. Unfortunately, two houses owned by the name of Rodgers, occupied a small board cabin on the opposite side from the slide, near the bank of the stream. The immense weight of the snow, with its great momentum, carried everything before it, breaking in the walls of their small cabin so much glass, and crushing the life out of the second husband instantly. Search was turned out en masse with spade and shovel, and after half an hour's labor three bodies were found, horribly bruised and mangled, and brought to town. They will be buried to-morrow.

WE POSTULATE.

Boise Valley may boast of its beautiful farms, its fine stock its "lovely women and brave men," but when it comes to its cyrus and tithe asses, Owyhee is entitled to be called the banner county of the Territory. It is conceded on every hand, I believe, that the Poorman is the best knowledge of quartz yet discovered; and we now assert, without fear of contradiction that we have had "born thats to" the biggest baby, and a girl baby at that, ever propagated west of the Rocky mountains. Think, Mr. Editor, of a child weighing fourteen and a half pounds the day it was born, and the mother doing well! How insignificant 6, 8 and 10 pounders appear alongside of our youthful Overbean! Isn't that some baby? and don't you wish you could do it? Hurrah for ora baby, say we, and beat it who can!

Idaho Statesman.

LETTER FROM OREGON.

PORTLAND, Jan. 7th, 1867.

EDITOR STATESMAN:—The rain with its attendant train of discomforts is a prolific theme to discourse upon at this season of the year in Oregon. If a young man of the community has a taste to be shown around to the gushing beauties of social life, and is naturally predisposed to be dilitant, why he can strike out boldly on the subject of the weather without fear of making a mistake. Then if your friend becomes delighted as she probably will be by your manly deportment and apt conversational powers, why you can very generally down to the beautiful moss roofs of the houses, with their perpetual verdure of eleanl spring; a step more hands you as the lamplighter passed on the evening crowd comes out upon the street. At this point some dexterity is required to avoid being stuck in the mud, and it is thought by some better to commence at the mud and work upwards—Extreme this divergence for I was only about to remark that the clouds still reign in Oregon.

SAIL HO!

Your correspondent has been "shoeless around" some two weeks, contenting himself with eating apples going to church, drinking Oregon cider, and waiting for the steamer. Yesterday a rush was made to the wharves upon the cry of steamer! A queer looking craft came steaming, or rather rolling, down the Willamette, for no steam, smoke or smokestack was visible. As the singular shaped thing approached the city the excitement became intense. It presented the appearance of four immense tubs with their tops closed, rolling sidewise down upon us. A Yankee near by "guessed" that it was a rebel torpedo and that the disability of the telegraph for the past two weeks had enabled the rebels to steal a march and blow up the city. We being in sublime ignorance of Johnson's coup de etat," a gentleman with prepossessions mien and accent, "reckoned" that it was another damn'd Yankee trick. A hoarse river demon of four lungs, whose physiognomy is form, mode of wood, and closed at the ends the body of the boat resting on the wheels or axletrees and not touching the water at all. The wheels are hollow and water tight, with paddles attached in the usual manner on the outer surface, and in this way supporting the body of the boat. The motive power was supplied by eight stout men turning cranks. This model was conceived by one Mr.* Seiber who is a resident of Portland. He has been working at it for several years and has already applied for a patent with which he expects to revolutionize steamship building.

AN EPISODE.

Not many Idahoans sojourn in Portland, but now and then one may be met with. Last night while returning from a dance I met with a gentleman [I whom we once recognized as it rang clear upon the midnight fog with the chorus commencing with—

"Oh! I'm a verse man from the country,
And you don't knowhoots me."

It would be better perhaps not to mention his name for while at Boise City he made a most exemplary, and he may merely be most exemplary, and he may reform and not drink liquor with the best girls and none, nor sit against the church door singing songs for nothing.

NEWS FROM HOME.

By last steamer we received San Francisco papers with the legislative news from Idaho, which is quite satisfactory to all, however—more especially those speeches. It is not an easy task to decide which most to admire, the chaste and classical oratority of the Proxiians of the Council as they hurl their brilliant anathemas at the devoted heads of "Governor Lyon and Clerk and Ballard," including one of the counties in Oregon which was dam'd up hard down hill and Yamhill. (Italics are ours identity forgotten." or the sonorous thundering and acrimonious oratory of the supporters of the lower house as they spread themselves in their maiden speeches and swung around the circle on the great national question of whether it would cost more to permit the Dutch girls to gain a livelihood by dancing or not).

Shades of Gosian—E. Dodge and John Brougham—gird up our loins for laughter; and proprietors of the STATESMAN call in your copies or Barnum's detective will soon exhibit our show for money, and thus defraud our artistic Lane of his copy right. Let me close this epistle by asking did the governor feel bad?
